

Lansdowne Resort's Babylon Micro-Farm: A Sustainable and Luxurious Way to Grow Fresh Herbs

Lansdowne Resort is a luxurious mountain resort located in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia. The resort is known for its world-class golf courses, stunning scenery, and award-winning spa. In recent years, Lansdowne has also become known for its commitment to sustainability.

One of the ways that Lansdowne is working to be more sustainable is by using a Babylon Micro-Farm. The Babylon Micro-Farm is a hydroponic micro-farm that is fully remotely managed. This means that the farm can be operated from anywhere in the world, which is ideal for a resort like Lansdowne that has a busy schedule.

The resort remarks that

“To insure we serve the very best cuisine, we pride ourselves on growing our own fresh herbs year-round. Savor fresh new flavors at Lansdowne Resort”.

The herbs are used in the resort's restaurants, and they are also available for guests to purchase at the resort's market. The herbs grown on the Babylon Micro-Farm are always fresh and flavorful, and they add a touch of luxury to the resort's dining experience.

Commitment to Sustainability

The Babylon Micro-Farm is a sustainable way to grow food. It uses less water than traditional farming methods, and it does not require any pesticides or herbicides. This makes the Babylon Micro-Farm a more sustainable way to grow food, and it aligns with Lansdowne's values of environmental responsibility. In addition to using less water and no pesticides or herbicides, the Babylon Micro-Farm also produces a higher yield of herbs than traditional farming methods. This means that Lansdowne can use less land to grow the same amount of herbs, which further reduces the farm's environmental impact.

Putting Their Values into Action

The Babylon Micro-Farm is a great example of how Lansdowne is putting its values into action. The resort is committed to environmental responsibility, and the Babylon Micro-Farm is a sustainable way to grow food.

The farm also promotes healthy eating, which is another one of Lansdowne's values. The Babylon Micro-Farm is a valuable asset to Lansdowne Resort. It is a sustainable, healthy, and luxurious way to grow food. The farm is sure to continue to be a popular feature for years to come.
